

Anti-racism weekend – from thought to action

Critical whiteness and empowerment

Date: March 20-22, 2026 or one-day participation on March 21, 2026

Location: community center "Arche St. Columban" in Friedrichshafen

Accommodation: Naturfreundehaus Friedrichshafen

Target group: People of color and white people aged 18 and over

Contributions

€ 0 for those under 27

For one-day participation for those over 27:

€ 25 solidarity subsidy, guideline amount

For three-day participation for those over 27:

€ 40 low-income participants

€ 60 basic contribution (this covers all costs incurred)

€ 90 solidarity contribution (this enables discounted participation)

The project is subsidized by Aktion Hoffnung of the Diocese of Rottenburg-Stuttgart. It is also subsidized by the Foundation for Development Cooperation (SEZ).

Click here to register.

For organizational reasons, the form asks for your T-shirt size and your parents' phone number. Please just ignore this.

Program

Friday | from 4:00 p.m.

Getting to know each other, open proposals on the topic of racism.

The team will be on site from 2:00 p.m. in case anyone wants to arrive earlier.

Saturday < 10:00 a.m.– 6:00 p.m.

Critical Whiteness/Empowerment Workshops

Sunday | 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Open proposals on the topic of racism, reflection

It is possible to come on Saturday only to participate in one of the Critical Whiteness/Empowerment workshops. More detailed information about the workshops and their content will follow as soon as possible.

Critical Whiteness Workshop

The workshop is aimed at people who are perceived as white or who belong to the majority society.

Empowerment Workshop

The workshop is aimed at young adults aged 18 and over who identify as a person of color/Afro-German/migrant/bicultural/non-white. It is aimed at all young people who experience racial discrimination in this society because of their appearance, family, social or cultural background, language(s), name, etc.

Contact person

Cora-Miro Fiedler, cfiedler@bdkj-bja.drs.de